

10.00 ac | 4,444,000 sq. ft

Set on the unspoiled southern coast of Antigua, this exceptional hillside land at Proctor Point offers a rare opportunity to own a private retreat near one of the island's most pristine beaches. Surrounded by rolling green hills and tropical vegetation, this remote property captures the essence of natural beauty and seclusion, offering panoramic views over the Caribbean Sea to the west and Falmouth Harbour to the east.

This area ranks among the most desirable in Antigua real estate for those seeking privacy, natural surroundings, and a direct connection to the sea. The land sits on the inland edge of the Proctor Point peninsula, offering elevation that enhances the breathtaking views while ensuring gentle breezes and a peaceful atmosphere year-round. Less than 150 meters away, Turtle Bay

